RE: David Vuong

David was my student in the Grade 10, 11 and 12 Computer Science courses from September 2010 to June 2013. In this short period, I have witnessed his dedication to completing assignments ahead of time and maintaining an A+ average through the semester.

David quietly goes about his tasks with diligence. I found him outstanding in regard to his unending quest for additional and challenging tasks. He was always a positive influence in class, especially with regards to his natural desire to help fellow students who were less capable than him.

I have no hesitation in recommending him for any work placement. He would be an excellent addition to any work team.

Sincerely,
